

East Germany Jails Farmers For 'Sabotage'

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Communist government was reported jailing farmers today for "sabotaging" the Soviet zone harvest.

Thousands of the hungry victims of the Red's agricultural breakdown, meanwhile, continued to pour into West Berlin for free American food parcels.

The resourceful food seekers eluded Red travel controls by mingling with the thousands of East Berlin workers who commute daily across the Soviet frontier. West Berlin officials expected today's food handout to approximate Monday's 108,047.

New Plan Aug. 27

In the two-week-old campaign, the West up to Monday night had given 2,111,611 parcels to East zone citizens. The present distribution system will end next Saturday but a new plan is to begin Aug. 27.

The U. S. State Department's newspaper Neue Zeitung reported the arrests of East zone farmers. The paper said the Red regime, enraged by delays in bringing the storm-plagued grain crop to market, began sending police out into the fields last weekend.

'Criminal Slowness'

The report said farmers and farm laborers have since been taken into custody on charges of "criminal slowness" in reaping, threshing, harvesting and transporting the grain. The largest number of arrests were reported in Mecklenburg, where the harvest lagged behind the other four Russian-occupied provinces.

City dwellers also were reported victims of police action because they failed to volunteer for unpaid weekend farm service or had "spread tendentious rumors about harvest conditions."

The new Communist drive against farmers repudiated the Reds promise in June to treat owners of small and medium-sized farms better and refrain from enforcing arbitrary decrees with police brutality.

Reds Bayoneted Stragglers, Says Released POW

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—An American from Bayonne, N. J. said after release from the Communists today that he saw "with his own eyes" Red soldiers bayonet stragglers in a column of captives marching north.

Pfc. Richard W. Godlewski, 20, was captured Feb. 13, 1951, while with the 2nd Division.

Godlewski was marched to the camp with a group of 500 men. Only 250 arrived.

"On the march up," he said, "they bayoneted a lot. I saw that with my own eyes. A guy would fall out and a guard would drop back and you'd hear the guy scream."

"A couple of times I was at the end of the column and I saw it myself."

"A lot died of starvation," he said.

Big Pull:

One-Fourth Completed

ST. IGNACE (AP)—The "big pull" on the Straits of Mackinac was a quarter of the way on its four-mile drive at mid-morning today.

Engineers, after working all night, reported approximately 5,000 feet of oil pipeline laid in the water as the $8,500,000 project was hastened to overcome earlier delays.

Excellent weather, with the Straits "like glass," aided in the task.

Experts said this first of two crossings—each approximately four miles—would be finished by Thursday if nothing more went wrong.

Nothing at all went awry Monday night, and virtually all of a second 2,500-foot section of the 20-inch pipe went into the water without incident. Previously, a cable break and damage to a huge winch on Point McGulpin delayed the work.

The vast undertaking, which is to link the Lakeland Pipeline Co.'s 1,765-mile line from Edmonton, Alta., to Sarnia, Ont., is expected to be an engineering marvel when completed.

Rail Traffic Snarled By Strike In France

By ROBERT C. WILSON

PARIS (AP)—A Communist-sparked railway strike against government economy decrees spread today to a million workers in publicly owned industries. Rail traffic was almost completely shut off throughout the nation.

The paralyzing stoppage threatened to spread to other means of transportation, snarling traffic at the peak of France's lucrative tourist season. Strikes among postal, telephone and telegraph workers went into their seventh day with no end in sight. Angry tourists and citizens were stranded, unable to send messages even for more money to spend in France—or to get out.

Coal miners were ordered to walk out of the pits for an indefinite period. Some ships were tied up at French ports, unable to leave on scheduled voyages. Gas workers stayed away from their jobs even though no strike order went out to them, and gas pressure dwindled.

Members of the Cabinet directly concerned with the situation held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss the increasingly gloomy situation arising out of the continued protests against economy decrees issued by Premier Joseph Laniel's government.

The ministers may decide to issue more requisition orders for key workers to return to their jobs or face disciplinary action. The workers generally have been ignoring such orders already sent out to post, telegraph and telephone workers. Five who refused to obey the orders were hauled into a Paris court today.

The new tieup was launched by the Communist-led CGT (National Confederation of Labor) which called its 270,000-member railwaymen off their jobs. The non-Communist Socialist Workers' Forces went along on the walkout.

Most of last week's walkouts were for 24 or 48 hours. This time no limit was set by the CGT.

The FO and the Christian Trade Federation (CFTC) control the rest of the country's 440,000 railway workers. Thus far, there was no indication what the CFTC would do.

The CGT said the aims of the strike were higher salaries and an all-out war on the government decrees, which it described as hitting at the privileges and social benefits of civil servants.

All Time Ore Record Is Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore carriers set an all-time weekly record in the seven days ended Monday morning by transporting 3,436,761 tons of red dirt down-lakes, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reports.

The old high was 3,384,481 tons hauled during the week ended Sept. 8, 1952.

So far this season the carriers have brought 55,082,502 tons of ore down lakes, compared with 27,628,943 tons in a like period of 1952 when the steel strike curtailed operations in June and July.

With more than three months of the season remaining lakemen predicted a pre-season goal of 100 million tons would be exceeded.

German Settlement Is Declined By Malenkov

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's Premier Malenkov got a lot of mileage out of his 2-hour speech to the Supreme Soviet.

He pushed any hope for a German settlement further into the dim future and used the German issue to try to drive a wedge between France and its Western Allies.

This was in addition — among other things — to promising the Russian people a better living standard and suggesting that Russia may have the hydrogen bomb.

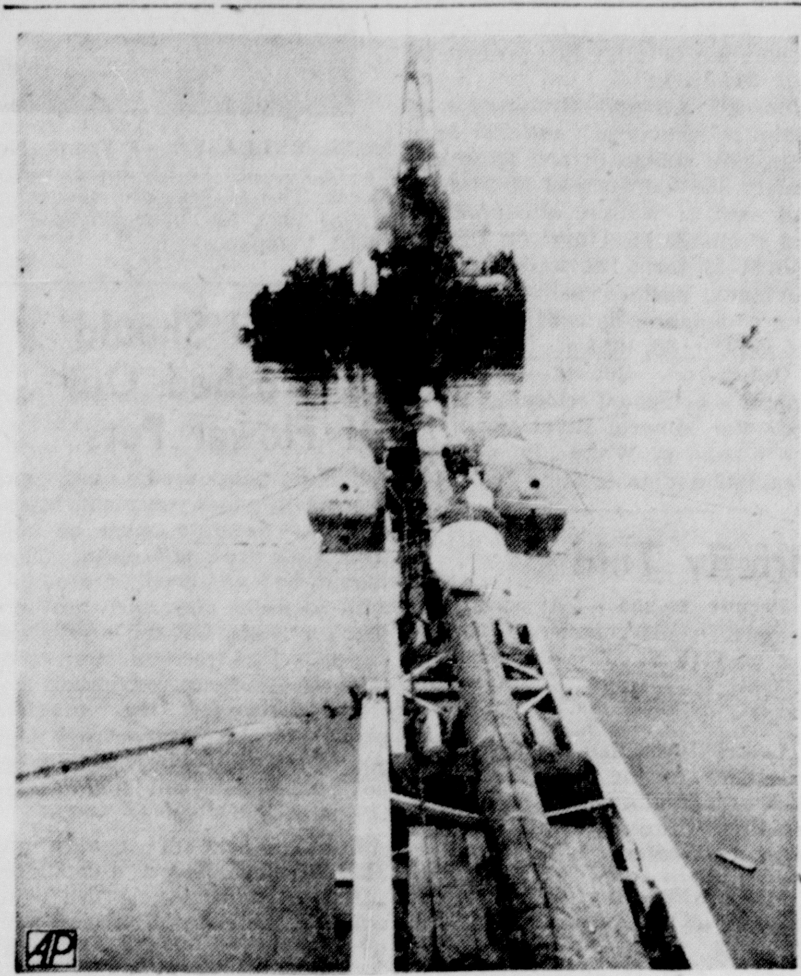

Challenged By Ike

Eisenhower in his April 16 speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors challenged Russia to prove any peaceful intentions it might have by deeds. As an example, he suggested Russian agreement to a free, united Germany.

Secretary of State Dulles and the foreign ministers of France and Britain met here in July. At the end of their session they invited Russia's foreign minister Molotov to meet with them somewhere later. This country made plain it wanted to discuss unification of Germany and free elections in which the united German people could choose a government for the whole country.

Skidding Prices Cut Nation's Farm Income

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Skidding farm prices — set against the background of a record high cost of living — brings the whole farm problem to the fore again this week.

Wheat, cotton and corn—the big three crops from which come the nation's bread, clothing, meat, milk and eggs—are at a level of surplus which under the law can call for federal crop production controls.

Farm income this year, the government says, is running 11 per cent behind last year.

Cut Spending, President Asks

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, trying to avoid calling a special session of Congress, today called for a reduction of federal spending "with renewed vigor."

In a letter to the heads of the federal departments and agencies, the President said:

"Ever since the date of inauguration, every member of this administration has been dedicated to the purposes of efficiency and economy in government."

"Now that Congress is adjourned, it is time to attack the problem with renewed vigor."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the letter public at the President's vacation headquarters here as Eisenhower was getting a briefing on the world military situation from Adm. Arthur Radford, the incoming chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Hagerty told newsmen that Eisenhower, in calling for a new drive to reduce federal spending, was trying to avoid calling a special session of Congress.

The press secretary noted that the Senate had refused to go along with the President's request for an increase in the $275 billion ceiling on the national debt. The administration wanted it increased to $290 billion dollars.

Federal Taxation System 'Cockeyed'

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks says the whole system of federal excise taxation is "antiquated and cockeyed and in particular souks small business."

Weeks, speaking Monday night to the National Retail Jewelers Association, said the system requires a thorough overhauling and that the administration is hard at work on the project.

Tortured GIs Bitter Toward Comrades Who Turned To Communism

By FORREST EDWARDS

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A bitter band of die-hard Americans came back from their Red prison camps today—vowing vengeance on weaker comrades who turned to communism under pressure.

They spat out "progressive" as a dirty word, and wore with honor the badge of "reactionary" fastened on them by Red Chinese who clubbed and tortured them but did not break their spirits.

One tough American had to be held back by force when he spotted a "progressive" at the Freedom Village reception center.

"I'll get that s.o.b. when I get home," he said.

328 Repatriates Sail

One hundred Americans came back from the North, along with 24 British, 25 Turks and 250 South Koreans in the seventh day of the Korean War prisoner exchange.

Meanwhile, 328 Americans repatriated earlier sailed from Inchon aboard the troopship Gen. Nelson M. Walker for the voyage of 14 to 15 days to San Francisco's Golden Gate.

All were classed as healthy.

A plane bearing 17 seriously ill Americans, all litter patients, landed at Honolulu for a night of rest before continuing homeward. It is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco about 6 a.m. Wednesday.

648 Freed To Date

The first week of exchange has brought 648 Americans of the 3,313 the Reds say they hold. A total of 2,372 Allied captives have been returned. The Reds listed 12,763.

The U. N. Command has returned 19,406 of its 74,000 Red prisoners.

Another 100 Americans, 250 ROKs, 25 British and 25 Turks are scheduled to return Wednesday.

The latest group of Americans released won the "reactionary" honors the hard way. They spoke with passion of those who have suffered.

Violence Threatened

"If any progressives get on the boat with me," said one, "They'll be shark bait. They're hated worse than the Chinks."

"If I met one in a bar, I'd hit him in the mouth," said another. "One of us wouldn't walk out—and it wouldn't be me."

American officers and newsmen were startled at the violence of the reactions and immediate steps were taken to keep some of the groups separate to prevent possible bloody clashes.

After months and years behind the Red curtain, many still had courage to defy the Communists.

For mocking at Red propaganda lectures, disputing Communist lies and standing up for their legal rights, these men said they received special attention of their guards.

The "ice bath"—standing barefoot for hours on the frozen Yalu River . . . choking confinement in crude, one-man dungeons . . . beatings and clubbings . . . hanging by the arms with ropes . . . starvation . . . and deliberate withholding of medical care from the "reactionaries."

But bitter as the men were against the Chinese Communists, they hated the "progressives" more.

Returning POWs who they estimated that about 10 per cent of the Americans they saw had "gone progressive."

4 More State GIs Are Freed

(By The Associated Press)

Four more Michigan war prisoners were freed Monday night as 100 Americans took their first step toward home.

In this, the seventh, stage of "Operation Big Switch," the first American to reach Freedom Village was Cpl. Lahman L. Bower, Jr., 23, of Detroit.

Released later were:

Cp. Clyde A. Keck of Sparta, who will celebrate his 21st birthday Sept. 3.

Pfc. Clarence Harris of Detroit. Sgt. Howard Tate of Detroit. A neighbor told Bower's mother the news as she was returning home from the store.

A brother, William, 22, who saw Lahman a few weeks before his capture Dec. 1, 1950, joined Mrs. Bower and two sisters and another brother in a celebration following the news of his exchange.

William, who is now out of the service, was also serving in Korea when he met Lahman.

The whole neighborhood joined in the celebration at Sparta when Keck's name was announced.

The 20-year-old GI was reported missing in action Nov. 5, 1951 after only three weeks in Korea with the 1st Cavalry Division. It wasn't until a month later that the family was informed he had been taken prisoner.

Owner Of Stolen Car Finds Thief

BALTIMORE (AP)—Last week somebody stole Maurice Lyons' car from a garage. Into his grocery Monday walked a man for a can of spaghetti and meat balls.

Lyons recognized the car the man drove as his missing auto. He grabbed him. The man was identified as Frank Bryan, 22. He admitted the theft.

But No Witch Hunt Planned By Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports from Freedom Village that some freed American prisoners of war may be coming back home as indoctrinated Communists furrowed some official brows in Washington today.

However, those chiefly concerned with the nation's internal security appeared to be taking a "wait and see" attitude.

Top officials in the Justice Department reported they have had no direct official report on any American-turned-Red on the repatriation list. But they said press reports of such cases were being followed closely.

"It is difficult to say at this point what the situation might be," one source said. "If any evidence of treason, such as acts of atrocity against other Americans, should turn up, we would certainly look at it very carefully."

"On the other hand, we should all recognize that men long confined, especially under conditions such as those in Korea, are frequently under severe emotional strain at release."

An Army spokesman said there was no intention to conduct anything like a witch hunt among released American prisoners.

The spokesman said Army intelligence officers will interview all the exchanged captives as a matter of course, but without any attempt to segregate those who appear to have accepted the heavy doses of Red propaganda.

The long voyage home is counted upon by the Army to strengthen the men physically as well as to ventilate their minds of any Communist notions.

As to the possibility that some of them may have agreed to serve as Communists agents, a spokesman said the Army would take no action before setting all doubt on that score.

One freed American told a story at Freedom Village yesterday of a group of 30 repatriates from a prisoner camp on the Yalu River who intended to preach communism in the United States.

Others said some prisoners had only "played along" with the Reds to get better treatment.

ARMY CHECKING

SEOUL (AP)—The Army tonight said it will investigate charges that some American prisoners turned informer on fellow captives in North Korean camps.

Spokesmen for the U. S. 8th Army and Korean communications zone, which is handling the return of Allied prisoners, said the case of every American prisoner accused of collaborating with the Reds would be thoroughly probed.

The American uniform code of military justice provides for sentences up to an including life imprisonment for military personnel convicted of aiding the enemy to the detriment of men in prison camps.

Fayette Boy Is Polio Case

Kent Lang, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang of Fayette, is receiving treatment in St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette for poliomyelitis.

He is the fifth Delta County polio case reported this year, and the second to require hospitalization in the children's clinic at Marquette.

Onset of the disease was Aug. 5 and the boy was hospitalized Aug. 7. Three other children in the family have been given gamma globulin.

Other cases reported this year are Rosemary and Patricia McInerney, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. McInerney, 1029 S. 13th St., Jeffery Waeghe, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Waeghe, 1019 Washington Ave., and John Steinway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Steinway, 1115 S. 9th Ave.

John Steinway is continuing to receive treatment in Marquette and now is receiving physiotherapy. He has regained use of some muscles in his left arm, but his right leg remains paralyzed, his mother reports.

The condition of the Waeghe infant and the McInerney girls is improved. They are being treated at home.

Houghton County Has Best Chest X-Ray Record

The Northern Peninsula area making the best record in mass chest X-ray surveys in the five year period, 1949-52 is Houghton county, according to the program for the Northern Peninsula "Roundtable on Tuberculosis" at Hancock and Houghton which ends today.

A table presented in the program for the meeting lists all Northern Peninsula counties, together with the best survey record of each county during the past five years.

The listing shows Alger county's best survey was in 1948, when 26.9 per cent of the population 15 years of age and over was X-rayed. Chippewa's highest was in 1947, when 48.9 per cent of the population was X-rayed, and Baraga's best record was in 1949, when 30.5 per cent of the county's population was checked.

Delta's best survey was in 1951, with 40 per cent X-rayed; Dickinson, in 1951, with 26.5 per cent; Gogebic in 1948, with 36.3 per cent; Houghton, in 1949, with 63.6 per cent. Iron, in 1949, with 23 per cent; Keweenaw, in 1949, with 19.8 per cent; Luce, in 1947, with 53.5 per cent; Mackinac, in 1941, with 25.2 per cent; Marquette, in 1947, with 27.8 per cent; Menominee, in 1948, with 32.3 per cent; Ontonagon, in 1949, with 25.1 per cent, and Schoolcraft, in 1951, with 23.9 per cent.

One of the chief objectives of the Houghton-Hancock meeting, according to sponsors, is to find means to improve check-up campaigns throughout the peninsula.

In terms of tuberculosis death rate, a Michigan Tuberculosis Association study shows, the Northern Peninsula's problem is two and one half times as great as the rest of the state, excluding Wayne county. In terms of the new case rate, the north country's problem is half again as great as the rest of Michigan, again excluding Wayne county, which is the number one TB trouble spot in Michigan.

Dr. William C. Harrison and Nurses Anita Kotila, Hilma Asikainen, Cora Bennett and Irma Bruenner of the Delta-Menominee Health Department are attending the meeting.

Court Order Ends Train Picketing At Kingsford; Hearing Set For Friday

Hearing on a temporary restraining order issued Monday by Judge Glenn W. Jackson to halt picketing of a railroad owned by the strike-bound Kingsford Chemical Company in Kingsford is scheduled for 10 a. m., Friday in Delta County Circuit Court.

The restraining order was requested by Prosecutor John V. Zanardi of Kingsford against Local 952 of the UAW-CIO in Kingsford.

Zanardi contends that a state law prohibits obstruction of railroad traffic and the Kingsford union claims the law applies only to common carriers and not to the company-owned railroad.

Some 15 to 20 pickets circled the railroad's crossing on M-95 in Kingsford last Friday, and pickets also marched at two company gates. The strike was called July 1 to support union demands for a contract. The union was certified as a bargaining agent in 1952, but agreement has not been reached on a contract.

The company has remained in production.

The hearing in Escanaba before Judge Glenn Jackson will be to determine whether the temporary restraining order should be made permanent. The question at issue is whether the state law restraining pickets from obstructing trains applies.

State Mediator
State Police Saturday refused help to Sheriff Amedeo Pesavento of Dickinson County to halt picketing at the Kingsford plant. The Dickinson sheriff requested aid through Gov. G. Mennen Williams in enforcing a court injunction based on the law prohibiting obstruction of railroad traffic.

Michigan State Police, on a request from the governor's assistant, Frank Blackford, investigated and stated there was no emergency.

Blackford reported that Al Leggett of Detroit will go to Iron Mountain to study the situation. He is executive secretary of the State Labor Mediation Board.

Special Deputies
Ivan Brown, International representative for the UAW-CIO union, Friday ordered picketing resumed at the railroad crossing, following a ruling from Michael DeFant of Negaunee, attorney for the union who said pickets were within their rights in stopping company-owned trains.

A meeting between the company and union was scheduled at 2 p. m., Monday. A federal mediator from Chicago, Jay Oliver, Leggett, Leonard Woodcock, regional director of the UAW-CIO at Grand Rapids, and John Johnson, UAW-CIO representative from the Saginaw-Bay City area were to be present.

The restraining order was issued by Judge Jackson following a conference at his home in Gladstone Saturday.

Following the State Police decision not to aid Kingsford law officials, Prosecutor Zanardi of Kingsford authorized the sheriff to deputize a special force to carry out the order from the prosecutor to halt picketing of the railroad because it was illegal. To mid-morning yesterday the sheriff in Dickinson county had not done so, claiming that he could not find the men.

Zanardi said if the union proceeds against the restraining order issued by Judge Jackson, it can be held in contempt of court.

STOCKHOLM'S ORIGIN TOLD

Stockholm, which this year is celebrating its 700th birthday, derived its name, according to Pan American World Airways, from the Swedish words "stock" meaning tree and "holm," island. Legend says that when the Danes laid siege to the original capital, Upsala, the citizens cut down a partly hollow tree and stuffed into it their most precious belongings. They then set the tree afloat and agreed that wherever it came ashore would be the site of the new capital. It landed at an island to the south which became Stockholm.

Old Soil Should Be Washed Out Of Flower Pots

Flower pots, used over and over again when you plant, transplant, or decorate, must be kept trim, scale free, and clean. They should be scrubbed thoroughly with soap suds after each use—not just for looks, but for a practical reason. Dirt residue often contains disease "bugs" or insects that were destroying the previous plant. If this leftover soil isn't sussed out, they will remain to re-poison the new soil and damage the next plant.

For the sake of beauty and plant hygiene, use a well sussed stiff bristled or wire brush when washing the pots. You may have to soak really dirty ones in a pail of hot soapsuds to loosen caked earth or the white film which insecticides sometimes cause on porous clay surfaces. Be sure to rinse several times—if you're doing a whole batch, turn the hose on them. Once the pots are rinsed well, set them in the sun to dry.

Even if you're going to paint the pot in gay colors to border a driveway or enliven the kitchen sill, wash them first.

Avoid Constant Talk About Weather Woes

Somebody once said that everybody complains about the weather but nobody does anything about it. Since you can't do anything about it, it is kind of silly to complain all summer about the heat and all winter about the cold and rain.

Anyway, talking constantly about the weather shows a lack of something more interesting to talk about.

WESK Radio Tower Completed Today

Erection of a 150-foot tower for Radio Station WESK will be completed today and the 250-watt station in Escanaba plans to begin broadcasting Sept. 15, Barclay Conley, station manager, reported today.

The radio tower was built on a site on the ore dock property which the station leased from the City of Escanaba.

Work on construction of the radio tower was delayed last week when Alister Alexander, chief engineer for WESK, suffered a fractured skull and broken arm in an automobile accident between Marinette and Peshtigo, Wis. He will be unable to work for a month.

During absence of the station's engineer, Jack Foster, Escanaba radio engineer, has substituted for him.

WESK is an affiliate of radio station WMAM at Marinette, Wis.

Extra Court Term May Be Called Here

An extra session of Delta County Circuit Court may have to be called later this year to bring court business up to date, Judge Glenn W. Jackson said Monday afternoon.

"Unless some cases are settled, I doubt if we can complete the court's work during the October session," the judge explained.

The August term of Circuit Court for Delta County opened here Monday morning with Judge Jackson presiding. Most cases were continued due to illness of the court reporter, George Gauthier.

Pass Sentence Wednesday

"Three jury terms per year are not enough to handle the court work in Delta County," Judge Jackson explained.

Seven criminal cases were on the calendar for the current term of court, and defendants in two of the cases Monday morning entered pleas of guilty.

Sentence on Norbert Couillard of Gladstone and Robert Willis of Gladstone will be passed by Judge Jackson Wednesday morning. Other criminal cases on the calendar also will probably be disposed of Wednesday, the judge reported.

The criminal cases are the State versus Douglas W. Schafer, on two counts, violation of probation and taking and using an automobile without intent to steal, the State versus James Reese, violation of probation; and the State versus Houston H. Graham, appeal from justice court on a truck overweight case.

Jurors Dismissed

One criminal case was ruled nolle prosequi by Judge Jackson because the defendant, Frank Moran, now is receiving psychiatric treatment in Newberry. He was charged with gross indecency.

The court considered divorce cases Monday, after a review of the calendar, and is scheduled to hear divorce actions again today.

Jurors for the August term of court have been ordered not to report. Eighteen jury civil cases were continued by consent during review of the calendar, and defendants in two new criminal cases waived trial by jury.

Four divorces were granted in circuit court following hearings before Judge Jackson Monday afternoon and this morning.

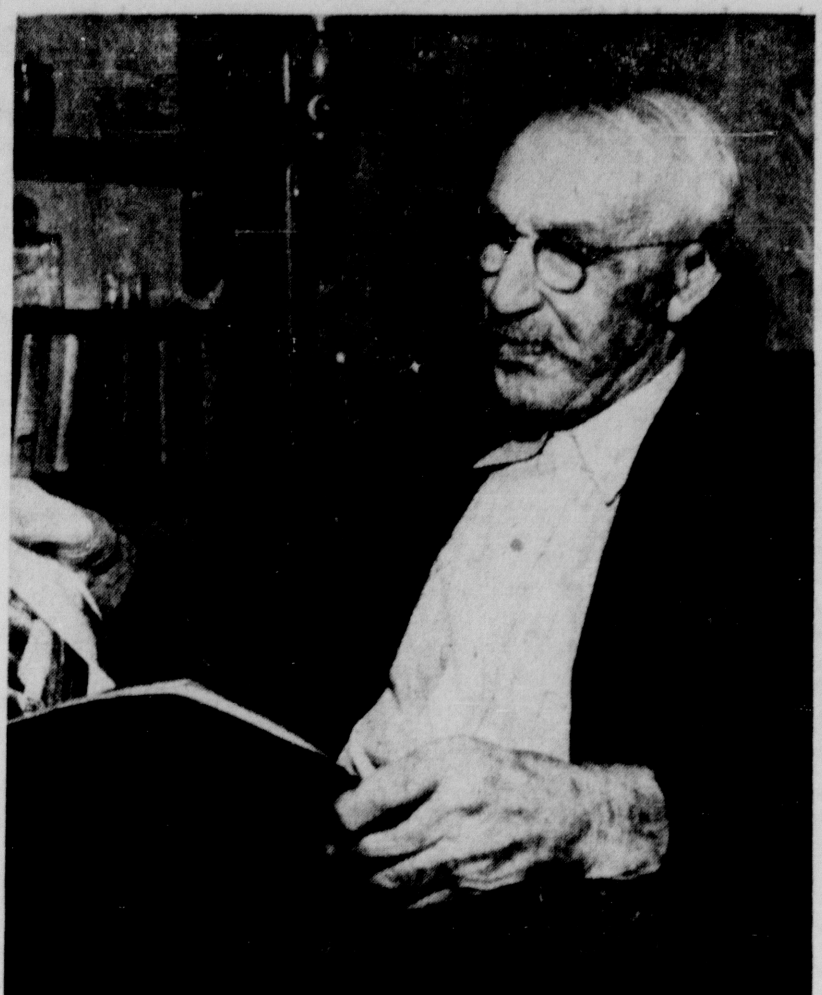

Flat Rock Post Receives Honor

The Flat Rock Ground Observer post has been awarded a special merit certificate for its "Operation Kywatch." The Flat Rock post is one of few in the Green Bay area that operates on a 24 hour basis, night and day. The post has been operating since October 1950.

The certificate states that the post observers are self-sacrificing in the finest tradition of American patriotism. It also stated that the post observers should be recommended for its courage and determination.

Fred Marenger is supervisor of the post and Ray Naton is chief observer. These two men are responsible for having observers on duty at the post 24 hours a day.

Start Blacktop On Delta Roads

Blacktopping of a section of County Road 416 between Durancieu's Corners and Flat Rock started today, marking the beginning of Delta County Road Commission's participation in federal aid projects, it is reported by Hilding Norstrom, Gladstone, Commission chairman.

In meeting yesterday the Road Commission approved an agreement to participate with the federal government in financing the improvement of County Road 426 from Groos to Carroll's Corners. This project is scheduled for completion July 31, 1954.

By sponsoring the federal aid projects for the improvement of major county highways the Road Commission receives 50 per cent of the total project cost in federal funds. In the past the Road Commission had been unable to accumulate sufficient funds to participate in the program.

The Road Commission this year will place sand fill over a section of county road from Garden Village north and surface it with gravel this year in preparation for blacktopping in 1954.

With the assistance of Bay de Noc township, the Road Commission is this year preparing seven miles of county road on the Stonington Peninsula for blacktop surfacing.

Oil But Not People Will Soon Move Freely Across Straits

THE failure of a shaft on the drum of a huge winch used to pull 20-inch pipe across the Straits of Mackinac caused a delay Sunday in the project with the result that the straits crossing, originally estimated to require 76 hours, may extend into many days, perhaps weeks.

Engineering projects such as this create considerable public interest because it possesses the always intriguing competitive factor. In this case it is men and machines against nearly five miles of water-laden pipe and the barrier of natural elements in the straits.

The first effort failed but there will be others and, of course, ultimately the problem will be licked. If the present plan of operation fails, another plan will be substituted and the work will go on to completion.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Remember when "You're the Tops!", "Going to Town," and "Real Smooth" were catch phrases in the lingo of many a lad and lass? If you do, pull a chair up and join me in an old-timer's examination of what is reportedly the current vogue in youthful slang.

Back in the 1920's and 1930's your phrase (and mine) to describe idle fidgeting away of time in the company of our friends was probably either "fooling around" or "just messing around." Well, today's youngster says neither. He "hacks around." This means that those lost and lovely hours between the end of the school day and dinner time—well, they are spent "hacking around."

Remember when the best in any category—from crooners to dance frocks to football heroes—was "smooth"? Miss 1953 calls her chief enthusiasts "cool" or, and this is reserved for the ultimate perfection, "the coolest." A new adjective implying enthusiastic approval is, believe it or not, "nervous," as in this item from a teenager's colloquy: "Let's listen to Eddie Fisher. He's real nervous!"

There remain in current teen-age jargon a few items which figured prominently in the slang of a decade or two ago. For instance, loafing and failing to do a job properly are still " goofing off" and "ducky" still figures as an adjective indicative of mild approval.

Sentimental oldsters may drop a tear when they hear that "necking" and "petting" are no longer in general use among today's teenagers. But have no fear. Romance is not dead. The new phrase for those goings-on in the rear row at drive-in movies is "making out." That's right—"the couple in the cream-colored convertible is making out!"

Questions and Answers

Q—Has Congress rejected any of President Eisenhower's specific proposals?

A—By the end of the first six months of the year, just one had been rejected. (Others had not yet received final Congressional action.) In his State of the Union message Feb. 2, Mr. Eisenhower requested a Congressional resolution nullifying commitments "in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments which permit . . . enslavement." Consideration of the resolution became ensnared in a dispute over wording—Democrats opposing possible interpretations that Congress would be criticizing foreign policy under the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations—and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tabled it March 10.

The Doctor Says . . . Little Can Be Done For Allergy To Metals

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

The skin is a tough part of the anatomy, but all of us have trouble with it at one time or another. Some people, like the writer of today's first letter, however, have a real problem.

Q—My skin is extremely allergic to all metals, causing itchy pimples and watery irritations. What is the cause? I have been told that my system is too alkaline. Is it true that such systems are inclined towards cancer? I have had this for the last 15 years and wonder what can be done to correct it.—Mrs. H. M.

A—There is no reason to believe that an "alkaline" system, whatever that is, has anything to do with your allergy to metals. There is also no reason to feel that your allergy to metals inclines you toward the development of cancer. The only procedure which would be likely to help in such an unusual and severe case is to keep your skin out of contact with metals. If it should be necessary to contact with metals, if it should be necessary to handle metals which cause your skin trouble, you might be able to avoid difficulty by wearing rubber or plastic gloves at the time.

Q—My sister's little boy, age four, has a rupture. She has tried putting a truss on him, but it is aggravating and seems to do more harm than good. Is he likely to out-grow the rupture or is surgery necessary?—Mrs. M. F.

A—I should think that wearing a truss by a small boy would be exceedingly diffi-crude oil will move constantly in large volume across the Upper Peninsula of Michigan through the Lower Peninsula and to Sarnia, Ont., the water barrier of the Straits notwithstanding. But the traffic of people will continue to be impeded by the narrow waters of the Straits of Mackinac.

It is paradoxical that we find the ways and the means to break water barriers for the movement of oil but we decline to break the same water barriers for the more important movement of people.

Does Russia Have The Hydrogen Bomb?

DOES Soviet Russia have the hydrogen bomb?

Ever since Premier Malenkov announced last week that Russia has developed an H-bomb, thereby keeping pace with atomic developments in this country, there has been much speculation concerning the Russian boast. And it has set American officials to keeping a close watch on their apparatus designed to detect the explosion of atomic weapons anywhere in the world.

Russia, of course, may have the H-bomb. Scientists say that the secret of building a hydrogen bomb can be unlocked once the secret of atomic power is learned. And it is known that Russia has exploded atomic bombs.

There is no assurance that the Reds have produced an effective H-bomb, however, and there are factors that would indicate Malenkov is lying. For one thing, Malenkov is in the midst of a bitter struggle for power within the Russian hierarchy. A statement that Russia has an H-bomb serves to strengthen Malenkov's position, even if the Russian leader is falsifying the true conditions in his country.

Also, the announcement serves as a threat to potential enemies of Soviet Russia and thereby may be a factor in discouraging anti-Soviet activities in European countries.

But the Communists are the biggest liars in the world. Until such time as more satisfactory evidence is produced, we will file Malenkov's boast with the rest of the Communist lies.

SUCH LANGUAGE

(Grand Rapids Press)

The Philadelphia Home and School council has been hearing from parents who deplore the bad grammar and mispronounced English that are standard fare on many television programs. Philadelphia mothers deplore Arthur Godfrey's use of "ain't" and "lousy" and the western thriller's addiction to such localisms as "gen-u-wine" for "genuine."

The simple answer to their problem is to turn the thing off. But we don't expect many of them to take that advice. The next best thing is for them to use only good English in their youngsters' presence and to encourage their offspring to read good writing.

Granted that it is necessary to take some liberties with the language in attempting to give authenticity to a program that is supposed to be "colorful," in the way that cowboy pictures are supposed to be, there is little excuse for fracturing the language on "straight" programs. We don't see anything especially endearing about a man who says "it stinks" or "its lousy." The youngsters will pick these words up soon enough without having someone they admire encourage the use of them.

ult and would interfere with his activity and perhaps affect him psychologically. The results of adequately performed surgery for a rupture of this sort are so good that in all probability an operation would be best, subject, of course, to the opinion of the consulting surgeon.

Q—I am expecting a baby soon. I have a little girl six years old, and how am I to tell her where the baby comes from and all the details that children ask? I know one should always tell a child the truth, but I am at a loss so far as this is concerned.—Mrs. L.

A—Answer your little girl's questions in simple terms which she can understand, but do not try to explain anything which she does not ask, or which she cannot understand. She will be satisfied with very simple replies, and certainly at the age of six it is not necessary to go into complicated details of anatomy or physiology.

Q—I am a girl in my teens and have a weak ankle. I turn it and fall a lot. Would it do any good to see a foot specialist?—Miss V.

A—it would be advisable to see your physician who could be sure that you wear the right kind of shoes for a while and perhaps might want to put on an elastic bandage or some other support to prevent your turning your ankle so often. This should allow it to strengthen, which it probably will not do if you keep on turning it often.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—So many congressmen have been calling up the Defense Department for free transportation to summer climates that Undersecretary of Defense Kyes decided to do something about it. He called in Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott.

"Where in the hell are they all going? What are they going to do?" stormed Kyes. It was embarrassing, he indicated, to have the Air Force flying congressmen all over the globe after its budget had been cut to the bone.

Secretary Talbott pointed out that congressmen couldn't very well be banned, as long as Defense Department officials were doing the same thing. Kyes demanded to know what officials were taking junkets, but Talbott knew of only one scheduled trip at the moment—an overseas trip by Assistant Secretary of the Army John Slezak. Immediately, Kyes issued orders for Slezak to stay home.

As for the congressmen, Kyes and Talbott agreed to cut out special airplanes for congressional trips unless the Defense Department is convinced it is strictly business. However, they meekly decided not to offend any powerful congressmen who are willing to travel on planes that may be going their way anyhow.

This means over two dozen congressional committees, which plan to investigate everything from uranium in South Africa to statehood in Alaska and the information program in South America, may have to put up with the inconvenience of Air Force schedules. However, such groups as the armed services, foreign relations and appropriations committees, taking legitimate overseas trips, will still get special planes.

PLEASANT SEA VOYAGES

The most interesting vacation trips at the taxpayers' expense however, are planned by individual congressmen who have asked the Defense Department to furnish transportation for themselves and their wives. In most cases, they will travel by military transport vessel, sometimes families have waited several months to join their husbands and fathers overseas, but will be bumped from the sailing lists again by sight-seeing congressmen.

For example, GOP Congressman Robert Wilson of California has arranged passage to Hawaii for himself, his wife and three children, leaving on the S. S. Barrett August 26 and coming back on the S. S. Altman September 8. Four congressmen are planning to take their wives on vacations to Europe, largely at the taxpayers' expense. They are William L. Springer, Illinois Republican, leaving on the S. S. Butler August 19, returning on the S. S. Geiger October 13; Hubert B. Scudder, California Republican, leaving on the S. S. Patch August 25, returning on the S. S. Gibbons September 22; William J. Green Jr., Pennsylvania Democrat, leaving on the Gibbons August 25, returning on the S. S. Rose September 14; and L. Mendel Rivers, South Carolina Democrat, leaving on the S. S. Patch August 25 with no definite return date.

Three other congressmen, also accompanied by their wives, have arranged government transportation to both North Africa and Europe. They are Republicans Errett P. Scribner of Kansas and Edward T. Miller of Maryland, who will leave on the S. S. Gibbons August 15, and Democrat Robert L. F. Sikes of Florida, whose departure date hasn't been set. Congressman Gerald R. Ford Jr., Michigan Republican, has also asked for free transportation to Japan and India.

WHAT IT COSTS

Technically, these congressmen are supposed to pay for their wives' passage, but all that is charged is $50 per person to Europe or the Mediterranean—just enough to cover the cost of meals and clean linen. The congressmen aren't charged a cent for themselves, on the theory that they are on government business.

Irony is that most of the junketing congressmen voted to cut the military budget on the grounds that the armed services were wasting money.

Note—Three congressmen have already left on early vacations. Rep. James I. Doliver, Iowa Republican, drove his wife and son to Whittier, Alaska, where they plan to sell their car on the high-priced Alaskan market, then sail back to the states at the taxpayers' expense on the military transport Funston. Congressman Paul J. Kilday, Texas Democrat, left last month for a European vacation with his wife and 18-year-old daughter, travelling at the Air Force's expense. Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat, took off on a similar trip last month, but left his family home.

A survey shows that it costs well over $10,000 to rear a child to the age of 18. And darn well worth it!

The world is so full of a number of things—and Junior wants them all for his birthday.

It's in summer that shoes always take such a long time making people feel at home.

Report On Kinsey:

Indiana Town Thinks Sex Study Expert Is On The Right Track

By WADE JONES

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—(NEA)—Of the several dozen people I've talked to here about Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey and his forthcoming book on "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," only one had an objection to the nature of his work.

The lone dissenter was Mrs. Ray Fisher, a kindly-looking woman of about 70 who sat on her front porch holding her grandson in her lap.

"I haven't read too much about what he's doing," she said, "but I don't think it ought to be put in print. I think it's just curiosity."

(A Gallup poll several years ago showed people throughout the country to be 5 to 1 in favor of Kinsey's work.)

To appreciate the attitude of people here toward Kinsey and his work, it should be remembered that there is a sharp difference between the interests and less cases of kids not having any fathers."

Houshour, like a surprisingly large number of townspeople, didn't know at first who Dr. Kinsey was.

Mose McGlocklin, a construction worker, didn't know. But his face lit up when sex was mentioned. "Anybody that can do anything with that subject there," he said, "it's all right with me."

Shirley Cary, 21-year-old University senior from Topeka, Kan., said, "Oh, of course what he's doing is a good thing. The surface has only been scraped."

The Rev. Howard Anderson, Christian Church minister, is heartily in favor of what Dr. Kinsey is doing, but wouldn't allow his picture to be taken.

Richard Sira, a barber: "A lot of people think what he's doing is something to snicker about. I don't think it is. What does my wife think about it? She doesn't read anything—just comic books."

What does Dr. Kinsey himself think about the value and purpose of his work? He goes back to the time he began his work in 1938, when some students asked for a marriage counsel course and he found out how little they knew about sex.

"The scientific knowledge of sex at that time was equivalent to what was known about indigestion in the 15th Century," he says. "It is unbelievable that there was any function of the human body about which so little was known. We knew more about the sex habits of barnyard animals than of people."

He has expressed the hope that as a result of his findings, our thinking of university people and townspeople.

"BROADENING": Nick Poolittan thinks most people need it.

The shaded quiet of the campus is a green oasis of thought and ideas in the intellectual Sahara of Bloomington and the surrounding countryside.

Research, of the academic sort Kinsey is doing, is going on in smelly laboratories and hot, high-ceilinged rooms in more than a dozen of the campus's gray Indiana limestone buildings.

These researchers and thousands more like them, working in the adventurous field of factual discovery, don't shock easily as they recognize in Dr. Kinsey a master craftsman of their own kind.

Marietta De Aubrey, a pretty graduate researcher here only three years from her native Romania, says this:

"I don't think Dr. Kinsey's work is to laugh about, although some people who do not think believe it is dirty. In my work we deal with fruit flies. We have male and female flies and we find out all we can about them, just like he's doing with people. That's all there is to it. It's not dirty."

Nick Poolittan, co-owner of the Gables Restaurant, believes "most people need to be broadened in the sex field. I'm pretty dumb about it. I guess most people are."

Bernard Houshour, a cab driver: "I won't hurt anything. I learned a lot in the Army that's done me good. Maybe it will make laws governing sex offenses will be brought more in line with the facts of life. As it is, he says, if all our sex laws were enforced, 80 per cent of our women and 95 per cent of the men would be in jail.

He has said, too, that his work should provide a basis for intelligent sex education of children, and for a better understanding between married couples.

He said in a recent speech that 75 per cent of married cou-

RAILS AND ROMANCE—Are the railroads of the United States correct in believing that people no longer consider the railroad appealing to the imagination?

Milton F. Schanupp, legal counsel for the Michigan Association of Railroads, said the railroads feel that, so far as the public is concerned, "the romance has gone out of it."

"About all the public thinks about in relationship to its railroads," said Schanupp, "is annoyance when they have to wait while a train obstructs a crossing, or when the trains wake people at night."

How far right in Schanupp and the railroad industry in its opinion? Has the "romance" really gone out of railroading for America's youth? Do the people only complain and never praise train service?

THE BALANCE IN FAVOR—To answer the last question first, the railroads should know by this time that when individuals complain it is evidence of interest.

In Escanaba, for example, we have heard the usual sad stories about delays at crossings, the railroad's failure to improve the Escanaba station, and that passenger trains are "always late."

There is basis in part for all of the complaints. But on the credit side of the ledger is the obvious fact that most people prefer travel aboard a railroad car to any other form of transportation.

Rail travel combines speed with a feeling of leisure for the passenger. He can sleep and eat in comfort while being whisked along toward his destination, and he can even take a stroll if he wants to stretch his legs.

SELLING TALK—Schanupp in his talk to the Escanaba Rotary Club mentioned that perhaps the railroads need a public relations man, a salesman who will tell the people what's good about the railroads.

Quite frankly we feel that the railroads have not done as good a job as they could in selling their often excellent service to the people.

And we are also of the opinion that Schanupp, in reciting the reasons why the railroads are meeting "unfair competition" from bus and truck and air transportation because of government "subsidy," is approaching the problem from the wrong viewpoint.

The cry of "socialism" has been heard too often to be effective in righting a wrong, if wrong exists. Schanupp should have more facts and figures to feed his artillery and indulge in fewer pot shots at government interference.

THE AFFIRMATIVE—Granting that the position of the railroads is one of underdog in the transportation picture, it must be equally apparent that if their plight is sympathetically presented they will receive sympathetic consideration.

Yet while Schanupp said the railroads have no quarrel with plane, bus and truck transport he nevertheless presented strong arguments against them as recipients of "socialistic" handouts from the government.

Such statements do not arouse sympathy for the plight of the railroads. They leave the impression that the railroads stand alone among transportation interests in the fight to preserve democracy and the so-called "American way of life."

APPEAL TO REASON—On the credit side, it should be reported that Schanupp's talk clearly posed a question of vital national importance.

Should the railroads of the United States be nationally owned and operated?

Schanupp didn't ask that question, but if the railroads fail financially the question would become one the people would be forced to answer.

For only the government of the United States, with its vast credit resources, could conceivably assume the obligation in the face of operating losses.

It is against this eventuality that Schanupp marshalled his arguments. The only alternative would be the acceptance by the railroads of some of the despised "subsidy" the railroads claim is being received by operators of trucks, planes and buses.

Some men work hard and save their money so their sons won't have the problems that made men of their fathers.

A golf rule says a player cannot change his lie when you once tell your score, men, stick to it.

Every picture tells a story—except a lot of those we've seen on TV.

Us gents are in a male quandary. We either have to expose more of our charms or retreat to the soft anonymity of the sleeping bag.

As I read the front line reports from the great style war in Paris, women don't know whether to throw away their corsets or keep them, elevate their skirts to their knees or go ahead and protect their thick upper ankles, expose their bosoms more or try to throw another layer on those they have rented or bought.

Graham Plans Four Weeks Of Revival Meetings In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Billy Graham, handsome 34-year-old preacher of old-time religion, visited Detroit Monday to check arrangements for his four weeks of revival meetings starting Sept. 27 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

At a press conference, Graham told newsmen he expected to fill the 12,000-seat tabernacle at the fairgrounds each night during his stay here.

"I can't explain why people come to see me," said the blue-eyed, wavy haired evangelist, "except that there's a hunger in their hearts for the love of Jesus."

"You could put President Eisenhower, Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell on the stage together, and they wouldn't hold a crowd for a week. But I draw thousands, night after night."

Lifeboat Rescue Staged As Woman Jumps From Ship

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—A dramatic lifeboat rescue was staged in mid-Lake Michigan Monday night when a woman jumped overboard from the top deck of the car ferry Milwaukee Clipper.

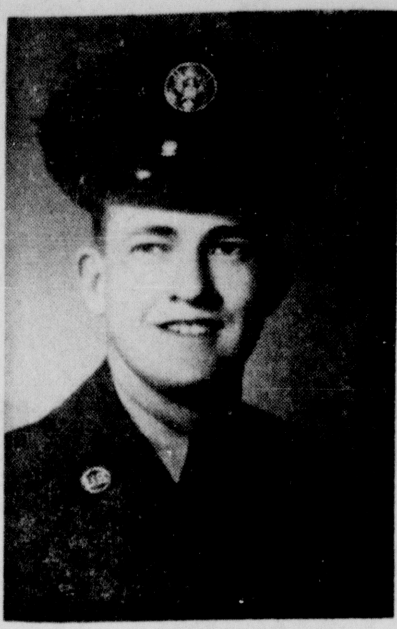

The auburn-haired woman was identified as June Blackly, 29, of Chicago, by the clipper's captain, Allen Hoxie.

Capt. Hoxie, who described the woman as apparently despondent, said hundreds of the ship's passengers witnessed the leap. There were 900 passengers aboard the Clipper on a regularly scheduled run from Milwaukee.

Hoxie immediately ordered the engines reversed and lowered a lifeboat.

Breakdown Of Buses Costly To VFW Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Raymond T. Osmond post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, totaled up the cost today of sending two busloads of teen-agers to the VFW encampment at Milwaukee last week.

Both post-owned buses, carrying the drum and bugle corps, broke down on the day they arrived a day late. One of the buses broke down again on the return trip.

Post Commander Robert Arthin said costs (besides living expenses, gas, oil, etc.) included a new motor ($700), two complete clutches ($425), two towing jobs ($128), a new battery and light relays (unestimated).

Moreover, the drum and bugle corps, twice national champions, finished first this year, but were penalized two points for arriving late and placed sixth. However, the post captured four out of five individual prizes, Arthin said.

Wife Of O'Dwyer Granted Divorce

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer was reported today to have obtained a Mexican civil divorce from the former mayor of New York City, who became U.S. ambassador to Mexico.

The newspaper Excelsior in a copyrighted article said court records at Cuernavaca, resort town 45 miles south of the Mexican capital, showed the 36-year-old former model filed suit there Feb. 18 and was granted a divorce from 62-year-old William O'Dwyer June 3. Excelsior said she charged mental cruelty.

O'Dwyer, who quit his ambassadorial post after President Eisenhower's election and opened a law office here, would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Douglas Assails Claims Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) today labeled as "the most far-fetched thing I've ever heard" Republican claims of credit for prosperity at home and the truce in Korea.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) made the claims in a nationwide telecast Monday night lauding the record of the new administration and the first session of the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress.

Martin said the Korean War was "the No. 1" problem facing the GOP regime when it took over from the Democrats in January. He declared that it was met by "a refreshing toughness" in foreign affairs which "touched off an amazing chain of events."

Policy Got Results

The first move, Martin said, was Eisenhower's order to the U. S. 7th Fleet to quit shielding Red China against possible attacks from Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces on Formosa.

Results of the new policy, narrators on the telecast said, included the exchange of wounded prisoners in Korea, the Korean truce, anti-Communist riots in East Germany, desertion by Communist fliers, and the release of William Oatis, Associated Press reporter imprisoned in Communist Czechoslovakia.

"Why doesn't Speaker Martin claim the sun spots and the drought?" Douglas commented to a newsmen.

Seeks Weaknesses

"President Truman can probably could have had a peace in Korea last summer if he had been willing to take the same prisoner of war terms which we now have accepted."

The Illinois senator said he feared there were weaknesses in the present cease-fire terms which would become obvious soon. He said, was the privilege granted the North Koreans to build airfields down almost to the 38th parallel.

As for the 7th Fleet order, Douglas said it was no change in policy—that Truman had been permitting the Chinese Nationalists to make hit-and-run raids on the coast without formal sanction.

IT'S OFFICIAL—OHIO'S A STATE—President Eisenhower distributes pens which he used to sign a bill formally and officially making Ohio a state, in its sesquicentennial year. (In 1803, Congress had neglected to take the formal steps necessary to give Ohio statehood). Rep. George H. Bender, (R-Cleveland), who introduced the enabling legislation, sits next to the President. Other happy Ohio congressmen are, from left: Reps. Frances P. Bolton, Frank T. Bow, Paul F. Schenck, and Clarence J. Brown.

Airman Brady Finally Gains U.S. Citizenship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Brady, a U. S. fighting man like his father and grandfather before him, today gets the American citizenship all three of them thought he was born with.

The strange story of Airman I. C. Brady and his soldier forebears has its happy ending in U. S. district court here, with Judge Walter M. Bafman administering the oath of allegiance.

But the story begins back in the Spanish-American War, runs through World War II and the Bataan death march and comes up to date with the Korean War just quoted by a truce.

Never Had Doubts

As unfocused by the Military Air Transport Service public information division: Until 1950, all the Bradys—the 22-year-old airman, his parents, sister and two brothers—found no reason to doubt they were Americans, although they lived in the Philippines.

High Grandpa Brady taken out citizenship papers and then, back in the Philippines, fought as a U. S. infantryman in the Spanish-American War.

But in 1950 they learned neither they nor Grandpa had acquired American citizenship by virtue of Grandpa's papers and war service. So the Brady family left the Philippines and came to the United States, settling in San Antonio, Tex.

In January 1951, soon after the outbreak of the Korean War, young Brady joined the Air Force. He is now stationed at MATS here.

But there is more to it than that. Half his life ago, in 1941, young Brady was thrown into a Japanese concentration camp in the Philippines, along with his mother, sister and two brothers.

The father, a U. S. infantryman, fought the Japanese on Bataan. Captured finally, he made and survived the long, killing march across Bataan and then lived through four years in a prisoner of war camp.

The family was reunited in Manila when the Philippines were liberated.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Applies For Relief

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., trying to obtain some money from her wealthy globe-trotting husband, applied Monday for public relief.

The blonde 33-year-old beauty insisted she was destitute except for two pawn tickets on jewelry and a mink coat, and had no place for her or her 11-year-old daughter to lay their heads.

Welfare authorities told her to sell the tickets and come back when she is as broke as the other people in line.

"I don't know," was his stock reply to questions as to whether he would present to the forthcoming meeting of the United Nations any proposals on the admission of Red China or on atomic energy.

More Americans Are Owners Of Industry

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Brokers may wail about the many discouraging days this year when folk don't seem to be buying stocks. But some leading corporations report that the number of persons registered as owning their stock has actually increased since the first of the year.

The New York Stock Exchange estimates that more than 200,000 new owners of shares in its listed companies were added last year.

Stock Market Dips Somewhat Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dipped a little lower today after displaying some early resistance to a decline.

Losses seldom extended to a point and gains were nearly that large.

Volume dried up to a rate of less than a million shares for the entire day. That compares with 1,090,000 shares traded Monday.

Railroads were steady with the exception of a couple of key rails on the downside.

Coppers remained higher. Oils were lower along with motors and chemicals. Otherwise the market was mixed.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, Sinclair Oil, Du Pont, American Woolen, U. S. Steel, General Motors, and Admiral Corp.

Higher were 20th Century-Fox, Consolidated Natural Gas, Good-year, and Philco.

U. S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Portugal is the world's leading cork producer.

The trend appears to be continuing despite the slow trading days, which often have been below the break-even point at which stock brokers can make enough in commissions to cover operating expenses. They contend they lose money on anything less than a million-share trading day.

A number of big corporations say their own experience indicates that more and more Americans are becoming owners of industry.

Stock splits tend to accept the spread of ownership. So far this year more than 50 companies have approved stock splits, well ahead of the number at the same time last year.

Ownership spreading works this way: If a company splits its stock two for one, theoretically the resulting split share should be worth just one half as much. That is, each new share represents just half as much of the company's assets as the old share did. In practice, the price often rises above this half-way mark because traders think the company's prospects must be good.

The new share, however, does cost less than the old, and thus automatically falls into a range more people can afford. More people can, and usually do, buy it.

Du Pont reports that it now has 144,326 individuals registered as stock owners. This is an increase of 17,961 since the first of the year, and a gain of 22,837 in the last 18 months.

Biggest group of stockholders are the 1,220,509 registered with American Telephone & Telegraph, a gain of 171,076 in the last 18 months.

Deborah Kerr Likes Small Fry Ways In America

By DOROTHY ROE
Women's Editor

Deborah Kerr, a product of Britain's best finishing schools and Hollywood's top glamor treatment, is not perturbed when her 5½-year-old daughter comes home from kindergarten and greets her as:

"Hey, Knucklehead!"

At first, admits Deborah, she was startled.

Just Normal

But she believes this is normal for small fry. And so she is not worried about raising her children in America. She thinks America is fine.

Deborah, busy wife of Anthony Bartley, producer and British war hero, is starred in four movies running on Broadway: "From Here to Eternity," "Julius Caesar," "Dream Wife" and "Young Bess." She has come to New York to rehearse for her first Broadway play, "Tea and Sympathy," slated for a fall premier, and plans to bring her children east for the winter.

House Hunting Now

Typically British from her accent to her porcelain complexion and her ladylike demeanor, Deborah is intensely interested in the Americanization of her two small daughters. Melanie, the 5½-year-old, and Francesca, now 20 months.

At present the Bartleys are hunting a proper New York apartment or suburban house in which to settle down for the winter—if the new play is a success, that is. The children are still in Hollywood, in care of their nurse, waiting impatiently to join their parents in New York.

Mass In Honor Of St. Clare At St. Joseph Church

A solemn High Mass will be celebrated by the Franciscan Fathers tomorrow at 8 a. m. in St. Joseph Church, in honor of St. Clare on the seventh centenary of her death in 1253. St. Clare, with the assistance of St. Francis of Assisi, founded the Second Order of Franciscans, for women. Known as the Poor Clares, they are a strictly cloistered Order. The other two Franciscan Orders are the First Order for men and the Third Order for laypeople.

The solemn Mass tomorrow will be offered for the living and deceased members of all three Franciscan Orders. It will be attended by the Franciscan Sisters of St. Francis Hospital and of St. Anne School, as well as by the members of the local fraternity of the Third Order. After the mass the indulgenced blessing will be imparted.

In observance of the centenary a world-wide pilgrimage of Third Order members is being made this summer to the shrine of St. Clare in Assisi, Italy. The saint's body after seven centuries is still incorrupt, a wonder that has been the privilege of only a relatively small number of saints.

Wrong Red Box

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Little red boxes are plaguing city officials.

The city recently instituted a painless method for paying overtime parking tickets. Motorists were allowed to place the tickets and 25 cents in red boxes installed in each downtown block. This allowed them to avoid the $1 police fine.

Firemen, however, got an alarm from the industrial section soon after. When they arrived, they found a farmer trying to stuff his overtime ticket and a quarter in a red fire alarm box.

Troopers List Four Accidents

Michigan State Police investigated two highway accidents during the weekend and received late-filed reports on two accidents which happened Friday.

Saturday morning at 10:30, cars driven by C. E. Gregory of Chicago, Ill., and John Koritko, Oshawa, Ont., crashed on US-2 a mile west of Thompson, injuring three persons and causing damage estimated at $400 to Gregory's auto and damage estimated at $500 to Koritko's, state police said.

The injured were C. E. Gregory, 54, broken ribs, kneecap, and right ankle; Helen Gregory, 66, laceration of head, and bruises; and John Koritko, 46, broken ribs and lacerations of the head.

Troopers said the accident occurred when Gregory's car ran across the centerline. Koritko drove off the pavement to keep from hitting Gregory, but could not help doing so, state police reported.

Car Hits Deer

A second accident happened Saturday afternoon at 4:30 on US-2 in Blaney Park, troopers said, when a car driven by Merle Hoag of Flint came across the centerline and sideswiped a car which Clifford Wagner, 58, of Curtis, was driving, according to the report given state police by Wagner.

Damage to the Wagner car was estimated at $250, to the Hoag car at $200. There were no arrests, state police said.

An accident in which Eugene Nyland of Star Rte., Manistique, hit a deer Friday night at 9 on M-94 six miles north of Manistique, causing $200 damage to Nyland's car, was reported late to the police, they said. After the impact, the car left the road and rolled over, Troopers said.

Fayette Driver
Another accident which involved a car hitting an animal was reported late to state police, they said. At 3:15 Friday morning, Emil D. Vetter Jr., 19, of Fayette, driving on Delta County Rd. 483 a mile and a half south of Fayette, hit a cow which was standing in the middle of the road.

William Hoy, Fayette farmer, had bought the cow only that night, troopers said, and had locked it up in his barn. Next morning he found it dead in the roadway, and Vetter's car nearby. Meanwhile, Vetter had made a report to state police, they said.

Vetter wasn't injured. Troopers made no arrests.

No Bad Accidents On Manistique Weekend

Last weekend went by without a serious auto accident within the city limits of Manistique, Chief of Police Roy Anderson said Monday.

Only accidents were two so minor they amounted to almost nothing, Anderson said. One car's bumper was bent, and another's fender was kinked.

Chief Anderson commented there have been very few personal injuries, and no one killed, in the city this summer. Only traffic fatality in Manistique this year was William Harrison, an 82-year-old man who fell and broke his hip when a car brushed him near Deer and 5th St. May 22, Anderson said. Harrison died a day or two later.

LOVELY TRIANGLE—Curvacious Sandy Swaney, pert Pat Hilton and lovely Laurie Ann Hohl, feminine stars of the Tommy Bartlett Florida Water Ski and Jumping Boat Thrill Show, are shown above giving a water skier's salute such as will be presented here Aug. 16 during the annual VFW Water Festival at Indian Lake. Time For Dam Repair Near

A letter from the Francis Engineering Co., stating that the time for dam repair is near was taken under consideration Monday night by the Manistique City Council meeting in City Hall.

The letter said the company has heard the Michigan Conservation Department feels the dam at the plant site is unsatisfactory at present and should be altered. The company said it wants to know what, if anything, is unsatisfactory about the dam so that it can be taken into consideration when repairs are planned.

Council members said they had heard nothing of any Conservation Department protest or objections. Acting City Manager Orson Livermore was asked to consult the Conservation Department and see what is on its mind.

The Council postponed a decision on a request from the city of Ludington that Manistique join Ludington in contesting telephone rate increases in Michigan. Ludington is served by an independent telephone company, the General Telephone Co., it wrote the Council.

Saying Ludington has held rates down by its battle so far, Ludington asked Manistique to join in financial support of its struggle. It asked Manistique to state how much it can afford to contribute, if Manistique decides to join the Ludington crusade.

Councilmen made such remarks as, "They are asking us to sign a blank check." A decision on what to reply to Ludington was reserved until the Council's next meeting.

Rotary Hears Pipeline To Sway State Economy

The oil pipeline now being installed through this region is a "common carrier" and will directly affect Michigan's economy by supplying crude oil to purchasers in the state, Tim Johnson of Saginaw, public relations director of the Bechtel Co., which is building the pipeline, told the Manistique Rotary Club Monday afternoon following a luncheon at Denny's Cafe.

An audience of 40, including 14 guests, heard Johnson state the pipeline will begin to deliver oil in December and possibly in November.

Johnson, who was formerly with General Motors, told the Rotarians the Bechtel Co. thinks the pipeline is essential to the defense of the United States and of the whole North American continent.

K-C Picnic Here Is Large Success

A crowd estimated at from 300 to 500 Sunday attended the K-C picnic, an annual event in Manistique for many years. The picnic was held at the Hruska farm site, south of Thompson.

Athletic events for their elders and races, swimming, fishing and hiking for the kids filled the day. The picnic began about 11:30 and lasted until dusk, Lawrence E. Hambeau, general chairman, said.

In a softball game, the Old Timers beat the youngsters, a group of high school age or a little older, 8-5. John Matthews, sports chairman, said. The Old Timers also came out ahead in a touch football game, beating the youngsters 32-24.

Winners in foot races received first-place prizes of $1.50, second-place prizes of $1.00, and third-place prizes of 50 cents, Matthews said. Winners were:

Girl 1-10, Dorothy Harding, Louise Berger, Karen Des Jardin; boys 1-10, John Kelly, Babe Billings, Paul Berger; girls 10-15, Mary Kelly, and in a three-place tie, Janet Matthews, Linda McEachern, and Ann Hardy; boys 10-15, Emmet La Follie, Dale McEachern, and Ronnie Rubick; boys 15 and over, Robert Corson, Bob McNamara, Carl Maynard.

Inspector Finds Jail Clean And Well Kept

Manistique city jail is clean, sanitary, and in good order, showing very good supervision, said a letter from the state inspector of jails which was read to the Manistique City Council during its meeting Monday night in City Hall.

In other business before the Council, Ernest Eklund, manager of J. C. Penney's, applied for permission to have a Ripley "Believe It Or Not" mobile unit parked in front of the Penney store from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on a forthcoming date. The Council decided not to allow this but said it would allow the unit to be parked by Triangle Park.

A letter to the Council asked if there were any limitations on type and size of markers allowed in Fairview cemetery. Council members were uncertain about this and took the matter under consideration, deciding to contact a similar Escanaba cemetery and discover what its regulations are.

Extra Run On Dream Pike

Gregory checks the markers for a fast-freight run—

—While Daddy makes last-minute running repairs—

Gregory McGrath, 7, sets out the white flags for an extra run on his "dream" railroad at Westmere, N. Y., left, but guess who does the track-walking? Right! Mother and Dad. Construction and maintenance of the pint-size pike is the hobby of Gregory's father, Louis McGrath, and Mother is the one-woman signal maintenance department. The line, envy of small boys everywhere, boasts signals, switches and an assortment of cars. And nursery-size "Casey Jones" doubles at the throttles of a gasoline-powered, steam-type locomotive and a sleek diesel.

—and Mother sets the signal.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

For the first time in several years not one Upper Peninsula athlete was among the varsity candidates invited out for football practice at the University of Michigan. This year Bennie Oosterbaan called for 73 gridders for the opening session Sept. 1. . . The list included 23 lettermen from last year's squad.

Softball fans at Memorial Field gave the Dells players a terrific hand Sunday night after their come-from-behind victory over Paper Mill for the 1953 city championship. The last of the seventh rally would make a Hollywood story writer blush, it was so fantastic. . . Many spectators had filed out of the stands and were on their way home when the Dells began their two-out comeback that produced a 6-5 victory.

Newberry football fortunes will be in the hands of another new coach this year. Joe Kodba recently resigned after serving one year, succeeding Morley Frazer. . . The new mentor is Don Kuick, former University of Michigan football player. . . He has been assistant coach at Midland High School the past two seasons.

St. Joe Trojan football followers will reap the benefits of a heavy home schedule this season. Last year Trojan fans followed their team on six road trips and saw only two home games. This year the situation is exactly reversed and the Trojans will be on home ground in six of their eight contests.

Jim Ripley, Menominee Herald Leader sports editor, is collecting schedules of all Upper Peninsula high school football teams again this year. . . He'll release a master schedule for the entire season in two weeks. . . It's a good thing to clip and save for future reference. . . Ripley, past president of the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association and oldest sports scribe in the U. P. in years of service, also keeps a weekly standings of all teams during the season.

Jack Scarbath Likely Choice As Quarterback For College All-Stars

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Maryland's Jack Scarbath appears to be taking over the "key man" assignment for the College All-Stars in their charity football game with the Detroit Lions Friday.

More and more in practice sessions at nearby Lafayette, Ind., All-Star coach Ebbie Dodd has been leaning on the Maryland quarterback for purposeful direction of his attack, particularly on split-T formations.

Scarbath is familiar with the tricky, sometimes-hazardous offense developed by Don Faurot of Missouri.

Has Experience Edge

That gives him an experience advantage over two other great All-Star quarterbacks, Tommy O'Connell of Illinois and Dale Samuels of Purdue. Moreover, the Maryland All-America has held his own in passing practice with O'Connell and Samuels, two of the most expert college flingers in the country last season.

And, as one All-Star camp attendee put it: "Scarbath is 15 or 20 pounds heavier than either O'Connell or Samuels and a couple of inches taller (195 pounds, 6-1). With a split-T quarterback throwing those short passes over the line, and using a lot of pitchouts, size is important."

Watch It, Tigers, Cellar Still There

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Once again, the Detroit Tigers are in danger of tumbling into the chilly American League cellar that they so happily left July 24.

They could find themselves right back in it if they don't do better in their new series with the St. Louis Browns than they have in recent stands at New York and Philadelphia.

The Tigers took Monday off and opened a four-game meeting with the last-place Browns in a two-night doubleheader today.

Currently 2½ games out in front of St. Louis, Detroit will have to win at least one of the four games to go back to Briggs Stadium still in seventh place.

That's a feat the Tigers were unable to accomplish against either the Yankees or the Athletics. The league-leaders set them down in three straight, and the A's scored three victories and tied the Detroiters in the series finale Sunday.

Detroit Manager Fred Hutchinson named Billy Hoelt and Ted Gray to go against St. Louis in the evening's twin bill.

Rookie right-hander Don Larsen was Marty Marion's choice for St. Louis in the opener, and either Bob Cain or Dick Littlefield, both ex-Detroit southpaws will pitch the nightcap.

After the current series, the Tigers return to Briggs Stadium for a four-game stand against second-place Chicago, starting with a night game Friday.

Two Teams Forfeit In Little Bigger

Two forfeit wins were posted in the Little Bigger League yesterday.

AFL clinched the championship of the league when Insurance Association forfeited. Insurance was unable to play because several players were hurt in practice.

Delta Hardware also won on a forfeit when the Paper Co. team failed to show up.

Kiwanis will meet the Elks to night at 6 at Royce Park.

Eskymo Gridders To Hold Evening Drills

Evening football practice session will be held for Escanaba High School grid candidates for the three weeks remaining before the 1953 season opener.

Coach Joe Milokna announced the change in practice schedule today and the first evening session will be held at the EHS athletic field at 6 this evening. The drills will last two hours.

Eskymo grid prospects will also work out each morning from 9:30

League Leaders Take Association Losses

(By The Associated Press) The American Association's three top dogs—Louisville, Toledo and Indianapolis—took it on the chin from second-division clubs Monday night.

Last-place Charleston beat Louisville 2-1. St. Paul edged Toledo 3-4 and Minneapolis beat Indianapolis 3-0.

As a result, Louisville's Colonels maintained their three-percentage point lead over Toledo's Sox while Indianapolis continued in third place three games off the pace.

Kansas City and Columbus split a double-header. Kansas City won the first game 9-1 and lost the second 7-4.

Porterfield Hurls Shutout And Braves Beat Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Porterfield, Washington right-hander who is specializing this season in pitching shutouts, hurled No. 8 Monday night, a sparkling one-hitter against the Boston Red Sox which he won 2-0.

In the only other action, the Milwaukee Braves whittled half a game off the Brooklyn Dodgers' National League lead by whipping St. Louis 8-2. The Dodgers still lead by ½ game.

The lone Boston hit was a single by right fielder Jim Piersall, who put the blight on Porterfield's 29th birthday celebration.

Newport Star Favored In Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—Lady luck usually rides with the winner of the Hambletonian Stakes and little Del Cameron of Pinehurst, N.C., hopes she's beside him in the sulky Wednesday when 23 horses take off in the famous hayseed derby at Good Time Park.

Cameron, 33, will be driving the favorite, Newport Star, in this 28th Hambletonian, with the richest purse and the largest field since the trotting classic for 3-year-olds was inaugurated in 1926. The purse will total $117,117.98 with the winner netting $63,126.59.

Cameron trains and drives for the Newport Stock Farm of Octave Blake, president of the Grand Circuit, and has entered three colts in the race, which is best two out of three heats.

The entry of Newport Star, Newport Mascot and Newport Champ is listed as the 8 to 5 early favorite.

Paper Mill, Harnies Hang Up Shutouts

District Tournament Opens

RESULTS LAST NIGHT
Paper Mill 3, Dells 0 (11 innings).

Harnischfeger 5, White Birch 0.
Chatham Maki's 4, Bungalow 3.

GAMES TONIGHT
Dells vs. White Birch, 6:30.
Paper Mill vs. Harnischfeger, 7:45.

Maki's vs. Merchants, 9:00.
GAME WEDNESDAY (Class C)
St. Thomas vs. Daily Press at Dock, 6:30.

Two shutouts and a one-run victory opened the district Class A softball tournament at Memorial Field diamond last night.

Paper Mill, Harnischfeger and Chatham notched wins in the double elimination tournament. Suffering their first defeats were Dells, White Birch and Bungalow.

One of the seven teams entered in Class A will be eliminated in tonight's opening game. The Dells and White Birch meet at 6:30, with the loser dropping out of tournament competition.

Paper Mill and Harnischfeger tangle in the middle game at 7:45, both seeking second straight wins.

Champions Clash
In the 9 o'clock nightcap the defending Class A champions, Escanaba Merchants, meet last year's Class B champions, Chatham Maki's, who moved up to Class A this year.

Paper Mill turned the tables on the Dells by a 3-0 margin in 11 innings last night. George Eastin and Bob Coriveau hooked up in a tight hurling duel and both pitchers went the distance.

Eastin held the Dells hitless until the seventh, retiring 18 straight batters before Barney Millette broke the ice with a single. After 10 scoreless innings, the Dells infield fell apart in the 11th. All three Paper Mill runs were scored without a hit, four errors leading to the tallies. Up to that point neither team had committed a miscue.

Eastin gave up only four hits while Coriveau scattered five. Pieropon Leads Harnies
John Pieropon pitched and batted the Harnies to a 5-0 win over White Birch. He handcuffed the Birchers with three hits while fanning eight, and slugged out a sim-gle, double and homer at the plate.

Franny Lancour started for White Birch and retired in the fourth after Pieropon rapped a double. Leo Lancour went the rest of the way for the losers.

The windup was a nip and tuck affair in which Maki's came out on top of a 4-3 score over Bungalow. Maki's took a 1-0 lead, Bungalow came back to lead 2-1, and Maki's rallied to make it 3-2 and then 4-2 in the seventh.

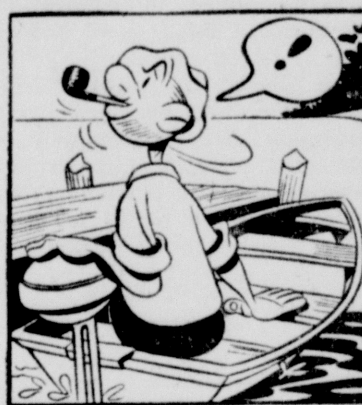

Stage Late Threat
Bungalow threatened to pull it out of the fire in the last of the seventh in which they loaded the bases with one out. But Maki hurled Johnson stemmed the uprising to save the win for the Chatham team.

Ray Wahowiak started for Bungalow and worked the mound until the fifth inning when Kallio's two run homer gave Chatham a 3-2 lead. Gene Verhamme finished it out for the losers.

The Chatham pitcher, who batted leadoff, paced his mates to eight hits with a pair of safeties. Jim Kennedy collected two of Bungalow's six hits. Chatham won in spite of seven errors in the field.

Rotary Little Leaguers, with the 1953 Jaycee circuit championship already clinched, will make their final appearance as a team tonight when they meet Kiwanis.

Bob DeGrand pitched St. Joe to an 11-8 victory over Kiwanis last night. Arron Raack was on the losing mound. The regular season closes Wednesday night with Kiwanis meeting the Lions.

14,605,000 Bales Of Cotton Forecast WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department, in its first forecast of the year, reported a prospective cotton crop of 14,605,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Officials have said a crop of 12 million or more bales would require Secretary Benson to invoke rigid controls on production next year to prevent a burdensome surplus. Benson has until Oct. 15 to make a decision.

The indicated crop compares with 15,136,000 bales last year and 12,215,000 for the 10-year (1942-52) average.

This year's production will be supplemented by a reserve of 5,200,000 bales from previous crops.

Durkin's Stand-In Raps Eisenhower WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Durkin's stand-in as head of the Plumbers Union (AFL) lashed out today at what he called the "pattern of plunder" of the Eisenhower administration.

Writing in the current issue of the union's Journal, Peter T. Schoemann said: "Today, the pattern of plunder is designed to eradicate hard-won gains such as the minimum wage law, unemployment compensation, public power development, public housing, social security, etc. These are all under attack. Certainly the public climate forbids the expectation of further advances. We will do well to hold our own."

GARAGE BECOMES MOTHER OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—C. M. Odom's garage has become a mother. Three baby sparrows hatched out recently without benefit of an incubation other than the hot floor.

It is not yet known where sprats, fish found in British waters between November and February, go during the rest of the year.
